Pumping ?

Pumping is one way of increasing a mother's breastmilk production or maintaining the supply when the baby isn't able to be at the breast. Pumping can also be used to help relieve the discomfort of initial engorgement.

So whether you are pumping fulltime or just as a supplement to nursing your baby, we can provide the proper equipment to meet your needs. In addition to pump rentals and sales, we offer a full line of breastpump accessories.

Pumping Consultation Services

Adjusting to life with your new baby can be quite overwhelming at times. Often, problems occur in breastfeeding or pumping that stem from minor nuances that, unchecked, can lead to serious issues. Let our consultant evaluate your pumping session, recommend helpful techniques or offer comfort aids to make pumping a more natural experience.
